1. In a bowl combine 1 cup baby rice cereal and 1 cup cornstarch. Mix well.
2. Add 1/2 cup unsweetened applesauce, 3 tbs vegetable oil and food coloring. Mix until smooth.

If your mixture is sticky, slowly add in more rice cereal and mix thoroughly before adding more. If mixture is dry, wet your hands and knead dough to add water.

The dough will keep for several days in the refrigerator. Store in a sealed container or sandwich bag and check for mold before using it each time. You will find that the dough is stiffer when it first comes out of the refrigerator. If you knead it to warm it up, it will soon be back to its normal pliable self. If it feels dry, wet your hands with some water and knead it in.
