Please provide any additional information regarding your family, if necessary:

As a member of a family with seven siblings, who are all in Catholic schooling, education can be quite expensive. Next fall, three of us will be attending a private college, with three others in high school. Being a member of a single income family with ten people in the household has taught me to value education. A good education that prepares me for my career after graduation is well worth the cost.

> Your Financial Aid History Information

The information below is the total amount of student loans that you owe. These loans are administered by the U.S. Department of Education (ED). You should confirm that these loan totals are correct. You can view details on the individual loans that make up these totals at the National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS) Web site. If you feel that the amounts listed on this page are incorrect, or you have other questions related to a loan, you should contact the loan servicer indicated on the NSLDS Web site. You can obtain general information about each of the types of loans that are listed below by visiting our StudentAid.gov Web site.

Note that the "Subsidized" and "Unsubsidized" amounts include the appropriate portions of any Consolidation Loans you may have. If there is an amount listed for "Unallocated Consolidation Loans" it is because we could not determine whether those balances were subsidized or unsubsidized.

Remember you are responsible for repaying all of the amounts that you borrow, plus interest. As a general rule, with an assumed interest rate of 5%, the monthly payment amount over a ten-year repayment period would be approximately $10.61 for every $1,000 that you borrowed. Of course your actual repayment amount will depend upon how much you borrow, the interest rate when you enter repayment, and how long your repayment term is.

After just finishing my first year of college at Franciscan University of Steubenville, I have come to a deeper understanding of the importance of knowledge and a solid post-secondary education. Human capital, innovation, creativity, ingenuity, and the ability to progress all stem from the attainment of knowledge. A fundamental source of this knowledge is that of higher education. Knowledge is meant to be shared, it is meant to benefit others and improve society. This is one of the main reasons higher education holds such an important place in my life. I desire to aid others in whatever field and line of work my career will involve.

I chose Franciscan University of Steubenville for several reasons. It offers a vibrant atmosphere focused on promoting and instilling a sense of charity in its students, faculty, employees, alumni, and anyone involved with the university. The idea is that this charity is propelled throughout the world. Majoring in Finance and Management gives me a world of opportunities to aid others and work for their well-being. By receiving the education that I am at this school, I can take the knowledge given to me and share it with others through my work, ultimately bettering the world around me. Education leads to knowledge, knowledge to action, and action to the charitable progress of humanity, and I desire to be a part of this process.
