THE NEWSLETTER FOR FRIENDS OF
THE FOUNDATION FOR ENHANCING COMMUNITIES

MAKE AN IMPACT TODAY AND TOMORROW

Your dollars can make the world a better place now, and for generations to come.

Thanks to careful planning and smart saving, you've found yourself in a positive position to enjoy life through your retirement. Maybe you're comfortable - so comfortable, in fact, that using all of your assets doesn't make sense, tax-wise. Maybe you'd rather use these funds to help make your town, community, region, or world a better place. Did you know there is a way to take your required minimum distribution through your IRA and use it charitably?

The IRA charitable rollover provision, made permanent in 2015 through the PATH Act, allows individuals 70 ½ years or older to roll over up to $100,000 from an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) annually to nonprofit organizations without being federally taxed.

This provision makes it possible for you to establish a fund now, rather than through your estate plan, allowing you to see the positive effect your impact will have on the community. Your gift can be placed into a charitable fund in your name, the name of your family, or in honor or memory of someone. The fund can be endowed or nonpermanent. For more information, please contact Janice Black at jblack@tfec.org.

MESSAGE FROM ROBERT J. DOLAN, IAC CHAIR

It is a beautiful time of year and hope fills the air. Flowers begin to bloom and we can all spend a little more time outdoors. The domestic equity market is moving in the right direction – up! So hope is all around us.

The last quarter ended in a downward direction and there was talk of a continued downward move through the end of the calendar year, however the turn around was dramatic. According to the Wall Street Journal, the Wall Street Fear index dropped from 36 on December 24, 2018 to 17.8 by January 19, 2019. Macro Risk Advisors calls this the fourth fastest drop of 50% or more in history. It was an amazing turn around.

The economy is still strong, several companies have announced good earnings reports. Unemployment is at historically low rates and inflation has stayed in check. All of this prompted the Federal Reserve Chairman, Jerome Powell, to say that the central bank would be patient with its interest rate increases, according to Mr. Banerji of the Wall Street Journal.

All of these factors have combined to drive the domestic equity market up to near record highs. The FANG stocks, Facebook, Amazon, Netflix, and Google (Alphabet, Inc.) have also rallied. The strength appears to be broad.

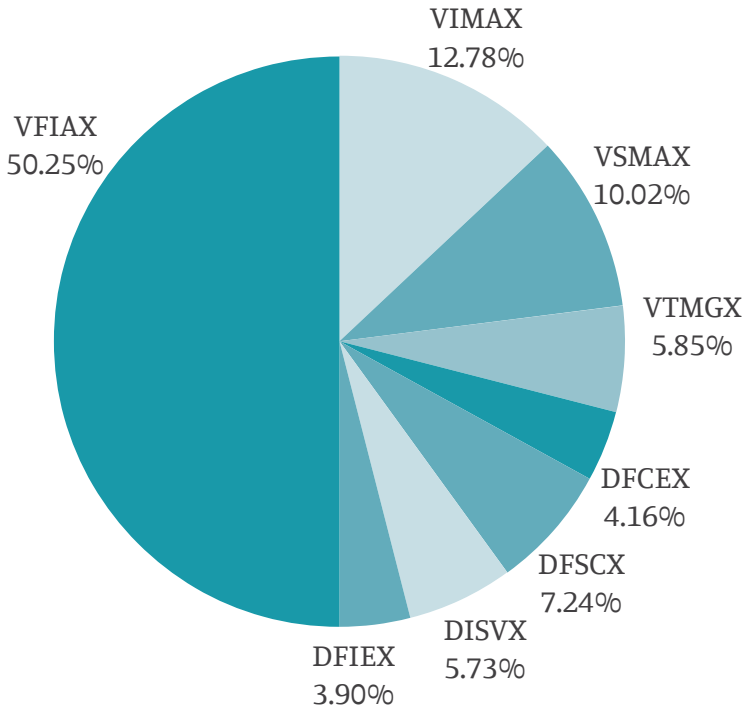

I'm sure by now it comes as no surprise, we continue to invest for the long term. We are always looking to see if we can improve our lineup of funds, keeping the same asset allocation or how we might tweak the asset allocation to better take advantage of the financial models, but the ultimate strategy of investing for the long term remains in place.

READY, SET, GROW!

It's been a long time coming, but you're ready — your nonprofit organization is ready to show the community that you are stable and planning long-term by starting an endowment fund. This is exciting, and there are ways to make sure you are ready for the undertaking.

There are three phases for developing an agency fund effort and throughout these three phases, there are three qualities for success.

PHASE 1: ASSESSMENT

Does your nonprofit organization have a clear mission and effective programming? Does your organization have a strong annual program with consistent donors? Do you have a pool of potential endowment donors? Donors like choice. Establishing an agency fund will not deter your annual donors from giving, you may find they increase their gift by continuing their annual donation, and giving to your endowment!

PHASE 2: EDUCATION

Why does your organization need an endowment fund? Make sure this case statement is at the center of all your educational materials, and have strong answers to support this. Create simple graphics to inform your stakeholders of your funding streams, and don't forget to remind your donors of the various ways they can give to your fund!

PHASE 3: MARKETING

Make sure that every newsletter, brochure, and flier has information about your agency fund. The more you publicize this fund, the more prospective donors will see it. Use these materials to ask potential endowment donors to self-identify, and be sure to follow-up quickly with those who do.

QUALITIES FOR SUCCESS: REPETITION, RESPONSIVENESS, PATIENCE

Building an endowment fund is no small task! Remember, people will need to hear your story several times before it is internalized. Once they know and understand you, you still may not see any movement until a will is rewritten, a financial plan is revamped, or another life event occurs. It can take several years for an agency fund development effort to bear fruit, but keep your sights on the end goal. Repeat your story, respond to those who react to it, and be patient.

Don't forget, TFEC is here to help you along the way! We can work together to assist you towards your goal.

HERE ARE THE WAYS TFEC CAN ASSIST YOU IN GROWING YOUR FUND:

- Expertise with complex transactions and planned giving, including gifts made with appreciated securities (including closely-held business stock), tangible personal property, real estate, gifts that provide donors with lifetime incomes (such as Charitable Remainder Unitrusts), and gifts from bequests;
- Accompaniment on calls to endowment fund donors and prospective donors;
- Marketing assistance by ghost-writing, guest authoring, or editing endowment articles for newsletters, endowment brochures, or websites;
- Legal assistance at no cost;
- No auditing costs or taxes paid on fund;
- Accounting excellence and single-fund reporting;
- Increased visibility through TFEC's annual report and website.

SIMPLE INTERACTIONS AND MR. ROGERS

TFEC hosts Kindergarten Transition Conference in partnership with South Middleton School District, United Way of Carlisle & Cumberland County and Lancaster-Lebanon IU-13.

Over 50 years ago Mister Rogers' Neighborhood was introduced on television. It could not be more different than the entertainment programming children watch today. One of Mr. Rogers' greatest gifts to children was his attentiveness and relaxed pace; his engagement and interest in what the viewer thought. This is the cornerstone of his Simple Interactions approach.

On March 21, 2019, 160 administrators, teachers, agencies and preschool providers from TFEC's five county footprint gathered together at Messiah College to hear how important human interactions are in children's lives: the essence of the Simple Interactions approach. Dr. Dana Winters, Director of Simple Interactions and Academic Programs at the Fred Rogers Center for Early Learning, delivered a keynote address focused on the importance of positive, responsive, and supportive interactions in children's learning and development. This approach is based on the understanding that the developmental relationship between a child and an adult is the active ingredient in growth and learning.

Participants were able to then build on this philosophy with morning and afternoon breakout sessions. Topics included Supporting Struggling Students, Connecting Behavior Challenges and Wellness, The Opiate Epidemic and Its Impact on Children, Exploring Literacy, and a Social and Emotional focused Make It and Take It activity.

TFEC has been offering transition forums and conferences in Dauphin County since 2012. This is the first year the conference was open to our entire service area of Cumberland, Dauphin, Franklin, Perry, and Lebanon counties.

THE FUND FOR WOMEN & GIRLS ANNUAL GRANTEE RECOGNITION BREAKFAST

Formerly the Women's Fund, the Fund for Women & Girls decided it was time for a change. While the mission - creating a $1 million endowment to support women and girls in our region through grants to nonprofit organizations - remains the same, this updated name reflects that you don't need to be a woman to believe in the great work being done by the Fund; everyone is invited to join the Dream Team and support these efforts.

The new name was officially announced at the Annual Grantee Recognition Breakfast, which took place on Thursday, April 18, 2019 at the Sheraton Harrisburg Hershey Hotel over breakfast. Attendees learned about the mission of the Fund, how to join the Dream Team, and about a special opportunity to celebrate the Fund's 20th anniversary & TFEC's 100th anniversary - the 2020 Visionaries.

Attendees heard directly from the Fund's grantees, hearing stories of how these dollars are touching the lives of women and girls in our communities. During the Breakfast, over $6,300 was raised to benefit the Fund, helping to ensure that these meaningful grants will continue to be made year after year. To learn more about the Fund, visit www.womensfundpa.org.
