I think it is important to speak up for those who cannot speak for themselves. This can apply to many causes, but I am especially passionate about animal welfare. I have volunteered with Speranza Animal Rescue during the entirety of my high school career. I spend about ten hours every week walking the dogs there, which helps them get exercise and improves their socialization skills, making them more adoptable. I help out at events, too, by handling dogs and providing information to potential adopters. In addition, I created a spreadsheet that keeps track of all of the dogs available for adoption and their information, such as how old they are, whether or not they are dog and cat friendly, and if they are good with children. I found that many dogs, especially those in foster homes, were being overlooked when people would recommend dogs to potential adopters, and this spreadsheet helps prevent that by allowing volunteers to filter for certain qualities and see all the dogs that meet the criteria. Volunteering at Speranza Animal Rescue has been so rewarding, and all the time I have spent there has been repaid to me through valuable friendships and decreased stress. Seeing the transformations of dogs from the moment they arrive at the rescue to their first day in their forever homes has been incredible, and knowing that I play a part in that has filled me with so much gratitude. I have also learned a lot from the dogs there - even though humans have failed most of them, they are always forgiving and have so much love to give. I plan to continue volunteering at Speranza Animal Rescue during breaks in college, and I'm excited to find new volunteer opportunities in Pittsburgh as well, which is home to hundreds of nonprofits. As I continue my education in the business field, I hope to utilize the skills I learn to help nonprofit organizations improve their day-to-day operations and better market themselves, thereby increasing their donor revenue and attracting more volunteers. Eventually, I plan to work in sports marketing, which opens up the opportunity for me to help with the volunteer initiatives of each sports team I work for as well, or even work directly for a team's associated foundation.

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to recommend [REDACTED] as a candidate for your scholarship award. I have been her English teacher throughout her sophomore and senior years, and have seen her exceed expectations in class and in the school community. She has impressed me with the professional caliber of her work, her mature sensibilities, and her persistent determination to better herself.

Upon completing the rhetoric and research unit in class, [REDACTED] found the concept of using appeals and research to influence an audience an interesting challenge. She wrote and created a rhetorical argument for her audience to support the programs and charities she believed in, giving her visual, verbal, and textual appeals in an effective and original way that captivated and motivated his audiences through the project for awesome initiative. I was immediately impressed by her abilities and dedication. Her project involved a lot of time and work, and it paid off. Beyond the project, she put her passion into action, becoming a regular volunteer for the Speranza Animal Rescue for the past three years.

Beyond the classroom, [REDACTED] has displayed a tenacious and tireless positive attitude throughout the many extra-curricular clubs and organizations she offers her skills and energy to throughout the school year, including basketball and student council. In academics and extra-curricular activities, [REDACTED] excels. This is not uncommon among students from Mechanicsburg, but what has truly made an impression upon me is [REDACTED]'s mature and professional outlook beyond school.

[REDACTED] is more than willing to take up a philosophical debate on just about anything, with the intention being to truly listen, understand, and grow from hearing and processing what other people have to offer. Additionally, she has so much to offer in return. She thinks and feels deeply, with empathy and a sincere need to understand. This was especially evident in the Shakespeare course she took with me, exploring language that she found challenging and engaging with that challenge.

[REDACTED] is worthy of this scholarship. I urge you to strongly consider her. If you have any questions, please contact me at jluttermoser@mbqsd.org. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Jeff M. Luttermoser

RE: The exemplary character of [REDACTED]

To whom it may concern,

I have had the pleasure of working with [REDACTED] in my capacity as a Board Member and Fundraising/Volunteer Coordinator for Speranza Animal Rescue. I have known [REDACTED] for at least three years; that is how long she has been volunteering with the organization. At Speranza Animal Rescue volunteers must be 18-years-of-age or older to handle the animals or volunteer on site. We do allow minors to volunteer at events and fundraisers, and that is where I had the pleasure of meeting [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] volunteered at numerous events and was such a stand out asset. She listens well, works hard and has a wonderful attitude. She is kind, smart and compassionate; she is the ideal volunteer. She is quiet, but never hesitates to take initiative and is always willing to help where needed. She made such an impression on the organization that we made an exception and allowed [REDACTED] to start volunteering at the rescue before she was 18-years-old. She had proven that she was trustworthy and incredibly responsible, we knew that we were lucky to have her. She has washed every food dish, cleaned every kennel, and done every other dirty chore that was asked of her with her trademark smile and cheer.

[REDACTED] has recently turned 18 and is now able to be fully hands-on with the dogs; which is what she has wanted to do for years. She has a wonderful work ethic and doesn't stop until the job is done; and at the rescue it often seems the to-do list is never ending. She is reliable and responsible and it has been such a delight to watch [REDACTED] interact and bond with the dogs. It is easy to see her connection with the animals. Over the years we have had hundreds of volunteers come and go at Speranza Animal Rescue, and [REDACTED] is absolutely one of the most hard-working, pleasant and reliable with whom we have had the pleasure to work. We hope to have her as part of our organization for many years to come.

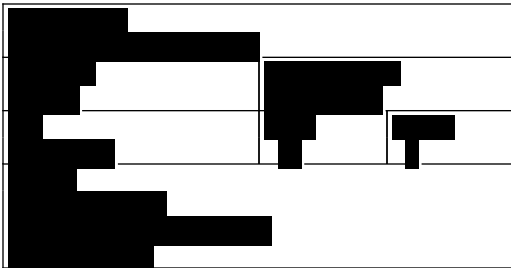

Regards,

Emily Bear
