Your Financial Aid History Information

The information below is the total amount of student loans that you owe. These loans are administered by the U.S. Department of Education (ED). You should confirm that these loan totals are correct. You can view details on the individual loans that make up these totals at the National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS) Web site. If you feel that the amounts listed on this page are incorrect, or you have other questions related to a loan, you should contact the loan servicer indicated on the NSLDS Web site. You can obtain general information about each of the types of loans that are listed below by visiting our StudentAid.gov Web site.

Note that the "Subsidized" and "Unsubsidized" amounts include the appropriate portions of any Consolidation Loans you may have. If there is an amount listed for "Unallocated Consolidation Loans" it is because we could not determine whether those balances were subsidized or unsubsidized.

Remember you are responsible for repaying all of the amounts that you borrow, plus interest. As a general rule, with an assumed interest rate of 5%, the monthly payment amount over a ten-year repayment period would be approximately $10.61 for every $1,000 that you borrowed. Of course your actual repayment amount will depend upon how much you borrow, the interest rate when you enter repayment, and how long your repayment term is.

I believe I need a college education to pursue my dreams of a career as a certified public accountant. I enjoy working with numbers and all my testing scores reveal that math is my strength. After taking my first accounting class in high school I knew this was the direction for my future.

I choose Penn State University after learning about their Smeal College of Business MBA program for accounting. This program will allow me to earn both my CPA and MBA in five years. This opportunity also provides leads to internships with many of the top accounting firms in the country. After visiting Penn State University I knew this school was the right choice to lead me to my career goals.
