

This scholarship has been established in the memory of Dr. Francis (Frank) J. Viozzi to assist college bound students interested in pursuing a degree related to environmental science or studies. Frank was an avid outdoorsman and an active conservationist. He recognized the many and diverse benefits provided by our treasured natural resources, and the importance of exposing youth to nature. It is hoped that this scholarship will assist young people with a passion for environmental conservation to pursue a degree and ultimately a career in this field, and that these individuals will go on to share their passion and experience with others.
